DOJ Sticks It to Diaz & Family Again

LEOAC was informed that the U.S. Bureau of Prisons personnel at the Federal Correctional Institution where Border Patrol Agent Jesus E. 'Chito' Diaz, Jr. is serving his prison sentence (withheld for his safety) has informed him that he cannot go home to a house with a weapon. That to do so would be a violation of his probation, and that he would be returned to prison.

Agent Diaz' wife Diana is a Field Operations Supervisor Border Patrol Agent in Del Rio Border Patrol Sector (Texas) having served for 15 years. Also, Agent Diaz' brother Luis is also a Border Patrol Agent serving in the El Paso Sector (New Mexico/West Texas). They have a number of fellow law enforcement officers in their family. Agents have firearms in their possession per their duties and the dangers posed to them as federal law enforcement officers.

So at this point, Agent Diaz was informed that Diana would have to do something about her weapon.

We at LEOAC fully understand why this rule would ordinarily apply to the so-called "normal convicted felon". However, this case was a complete overreach as a prosecution, contained false allegations starting with the fact that then-juvenile narco-trafficker and illegal alien "Bernal" was labeled by the ICE Office of Professional Responsibility investigating agents as lacking credibility as a witness in their report to the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Western District of Texas along with CBP Internal Affairs. It's also known that he and other witnesses, federal agents testifying against Agent Diaz also had credibility issues given the numerous conflicting statements and outright admissions of perjury (lying) for which none of them were charged by the government unlike Agent Diaz whose story never changed and the fact that Judge Alia Moses filtered evidence during the trials heard by the jury. All of which ensured the conviction of an innocent Border Patrol Agent while the real criminals were made out to be victims and protected by the U.S. and Mexican Governments.

During the bond hearing where Agent Diaz was requesting release post-trial under bond, Judge Moses denied his request and stated that he was a "danger to the community" though as stated previously the statements used against Agent Diaz were conflicting and false on the part of his accusers.

What will DOJ do next to the Diaz family? Will they not be satisfied until they have forced Diana into an early retirement, which given her age is highly unlikely? Or do they want to see Chito and Diana divorced? Isn't it enough that they've destroyed Chito's name and reputation? Isn't it enough that they've engaged in an attack on Diana's career as a 15 year BP Agent that has resulted in further promotion and advancement to be halted, the details of which cannot be disclosed due to privacy concerns?

Here is the statement of Chito's wife Diana:

"I have to ask what does the DOJ want me to do? I can't retire, I'm too young. Divorcing him is not an option as he would still have to come around for the children. What is Chito going to do about his brother, not see him for the next 5 years? He carries a gun. When are we going to be done feeding the Mexican monster with our agents' lives and those of their families? Is a 15 yr old illegal drug smuggler worth more than almost 25 yrs of dedication n hard work, protecting two borders in two different states? While the president can pardon a turkey, it's just a signature to him. For us, it's life altering."

We call on the U.S. House of Representatives to launch a formal investigation and conduct hearings after the New Year on this case.

DOJ knows as we do that they can waive and/or modify the rule under the circumstances given both Diana's and Luis' occupations as BP Agents knowing the dangers they face as they continue to protect and defend America's borders from the dangerous drug cartels and human traffickers infiltrating the U.S. from Mexico each and every day. DOJ also knows that this case never should have seen the inside of a courtroom and should have solely resulted in, at the most, internal discipline by the Border Patrol.

So accordingly, the Law Enforcement Officers Advocates Council calls on the Justice Department to waive that rule the same way they waived federal statutes to protect drug smuggler "Bernal".

LEOAC serves as case advocate for Agent Diaz and his family in matters outside the courtroom. We continue to raise funds to assist with the fines that were imposed as well as to assist with other matters that affect Chito's case.
